Pressure on for Federal Pay Raises

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under pressure from business and labor, a House committee headed today for the first congressional vote on one of President Nixon's emergency economic moves.

The vote was on a resolution to veto the President's $1.3 billion federal pay raise deferral. Approval by the House Civil Service Committee appeared likely if it could muster a quorum.

AFL-CIO President George Meany called the President's plan "outrageous" and urged every committee member by letter to clear the veto resolution for House action.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce urged the committee not to jeopardize what it called the balance of Nixon's inflation-halting effort "by yielding to the pressures of special interest."

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford meanwhile launched a drive to line up House votes against the veto resolution saying he was optimistic Congress would not block the federal pay deferral.

The President's plan would postpone a scheduled Jan. 1 federal pay raise six months to next July. The $1.3-billion savings is the biggest single item in the $5-billion federal spending cut side of his emergency economic package.

Congress has until Oct. 7—30 days—to veto the plan with passage of a "resolution of disapproval" by either the House or Senate.

Meanwhile, in the House Ways and Means Committee, chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said he has plans for $2 billion more in tax relief for individuals than Nixon has proposed.

Mills said he feels this could be balanced by trimming some business tax breaks advocated by Nixon. Benefits of his plan, Mills said, would go mostly to low-income individuals.

State Forest Fund Share Is $606,367

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin said Wednesday that Arkansas will receive $606,367 as its share of a U.S. Forest Service fund resulting from timber proceeds and use fees.

The total nationwide share, mailed to 39 states and Puerto Rico, is $55.6 million for timber sale and fee collections during the year ended last June 30. A record $71.8 million was apportioned a year earlier.

Arkansan Is Killed in FBI Shootout

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP) — One man was killed and two FBI agents were wounded today as the agents moved in to rescue a bank president, his wife and two teen-age daughters who had been held hostage at a motel for two days.

Police identified the dead man as Marvin Grissom, McDougal, Ark. The FBI said T. R. Smith, president of the Concord Banking Co., Concord, Ga., his wife and two daughters were abducted Tuesday and had been held since that time. Concord is about 60 miles from Atlanta.

Police are looking for a second man, who apparently fled during the shooting.

Officers said the men apparently were holding the Smith family until a time lock at the bank was opened. It normally is closed on Wednesdays.

FBI agent Leo E. Conroy said the Smith family was taken from their home Tuesday night by a gunman who had two revolvers.

The FBI agents learned that the family had been abducted, and stalked out the motel room Wednesday.

Agreement on Seating China in UN

By MAX HARRELSON
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and a group of its U.N. allies are reported to have reached tentative agreement on a resolution revised to give China's Security Council seat to Peking.

Under pressure from Japan and several other governments, the Nixon administration was understood to have agreed to add the Security Council provision to an earlier U.S. draft proposing that both Communist China and Taiwan sit in the United Nations.

U.S. officials insist that their main aim is to keep Nationalist China in the world organization and that all their tactics are designed with this in mind.

The special treatment of the important Security Council seat—one of the five with veto power reserved for major powers—has been under discussion for several weeks in private talks. The tentative agreement

Wants U.S., Trading Partners to Adopt a 4-Point Compromise

By FRED COLEMAN
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Pierre-Paul Schweitzer, managing director of the International Monetary Fund, today urged the United States and its major trading partners to adopt a four-point compromise plan for overcoming the world monetary crisis.

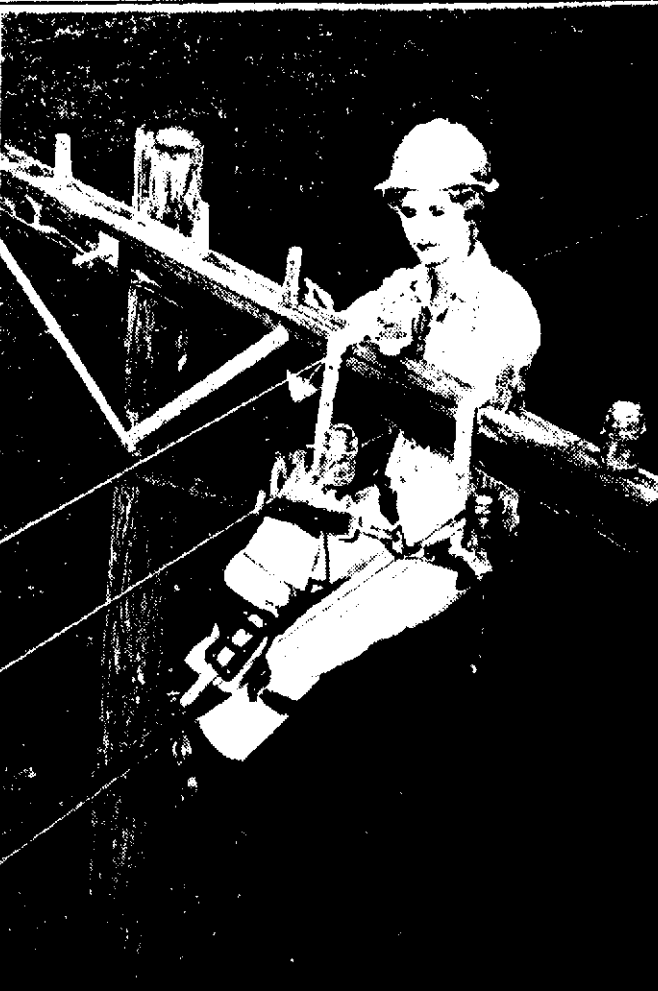

Schweitzer's presentation opened the second and final day of the Group of Ten, conference of finance ministers and central bankers from the non-Communist world's 10 richest nations.

Conference sources said the plan included these points:

1. A general realignment in the exchange rates of the world's leading currencies, including an upward revaluation of the major European currencies and the Japanese yen and a devaluation of the U.S. dollar.

2. A new reserve system in which special drawing rights in the IMF would assume some of the reserve role backing currencies now held by gold.

3. An effort to swing the U.S. balance of payments from its current deficit to a surplus, in which America's allies would assume a share of the burden.

Congress Begins Prison Riot Probe, President Supports Methods Used

By BROOKS JONES
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has begun probing the bloody suppression of the Attica prison riot amid calls both for reform and criminal investigations. The White House has reiterated President Nixon's support of methods used to quell the rebellion.

Chairman Claude Pepper, D-Fla., of the House Select Committee on Crime, announced Wednesday he and three other committee members will talk with New York state officials and prison inmates to find how to prevent a recurrence of the Attica riot. Hearings will follow, he said.

The 13 black members of the House called on Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell to appoint a special federal grand jury to investigate the "questionable circumstances" surrounding the decision of officials to storm rioter-held portions of the prison Monday.

White House spokesman Ronald Ziegler said the President has not withdrawn his support for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's handling of the affair, despite subsequent findings that slain hostages were ously reported. Rioters were reported not to have had guns.

"The governor had the responsibility to deal with a very difficult situation," Ziegler said.

Pepper, whose committee is empowered to investigate prisons and draw up proposed legislation, announced it already has questioned California Gov. Ronald Reagan on the deaths of three convicts and three guards at San Quentin prison Aug. 22.

The black caucus said available evidence seems to indicate the loss of 42 lives in the Attica riot could have been avoided.

"This incident alone points out the extremely low value that America places on human life in order to preserve its rather meaningless and shallow law-and-order ethic," the black congressmen said.

The black caucus said outside observers should be allowed inside the prison to investigate reports that many "inmates have been the target of violent reprisals at the hands of prison officials" since the rebellion was put down.

Both Pepper and the black caucus made calls for reform of prison conditions.

Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeir, D-Wis., head of a House Judiciary subcommittee that last spring held hearings on correctional institutions, said he will try to get subcommittee members to tour jails and prisons within 30 days.

Rep. Abner J. Mikva, D-Ill., sponsor of a broad prison-reform measure, took the floor of the House to call for its passage.

Look Magazine Will Call It Quits Oct. 19

NEW YORK (AP) — Look magazine will cease publication with the issue of Oct. 19, it was announced today.

Mounting costs, particularly postal rates, and declining advertising revenue were cited as the reasons by Gardner Cowles, chairman of the board and editor in chief of Cowles Communications, publishers of the magazine.

Cowles said that Look had 28 million readers, and the response to subscription offers and renewals during the first nine months of 1971 was the best in the magazine's history.

"But reader interest and desire for a publication like Look is not enough to insure its survival if advertising volume is insufficient and costs continue to rise," he said in a statement.

Two Elderly High Court Justices Ill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court approaches a new term with two of its nine justices in the same hospital suffering from ailments.

Court and hospital officials are guarded on the conditions of the two elderly judges, Hugo L. Black and John M. Harlan. Black, 85, is said to have "an inflammatory condition of the blood vessels." Harlan, 72, is said to have "a backache."

Both men, who are distant cousins, have been at the hospital for weeks. Harlan entered Aug. 16 for what was thought initially to be a "sacroiliac straining."

Black was hospitalized Aug. 28. He barred officials there and at the court from disclosing the nature of his illness. On Wednesday, his office briefly said he was at Bethesda "for maintenance of a proper blood sugar balance during steroid treatment" of the inflammatory condition.

The court resumes public sessions Oct. 4. In the past it has operated with only seven justices—the most recent being the spring of 1970 when Abe Fortas had resigned and Thurgood Marshall was put out of action by pneumonia.

Nixon Ready to Fight for Draft Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon was reported ready to lend his personal support to a Senate vote on tabling the draft-extension bill, a move he is said to believe would signal a weakness in national defense preparedness.

At a news briefing Wednesday, a White House aide said Nixon, worried over the bill's fate, was considering personally telephoning some senators before the vote on the tabling motion by Sen. Gordon Allot, R-Colo.

Allot is leading the fight to have $300 million added to the $2.4-billion military pay increase provided in the bill.

Sen. John Stennis, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, admits the bill's chances are dim if the tabling motion carries.

"Let's see if we can't give a little and take a little ... and pass a bill that almost everyone thinks is necessary this year," the Mississippi Democrat told the Senate in a last-ditch appeal for support.

Formed out of bills passed earlier by both chambers, the compromise version was passed by the House after a conference committee watered down an amendment by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield calling for withdrawal of all forces from Vietnam within nine months after enactment.

The compromise, urging Nixon to set a date but not requiring one in advance, is threatened by a filibuster on antiwar senators.

The White House gave news-men copies of a document prepared by its congressional relations staff in cooperation with the National Security Council that said in part, "if the draft bill dies, American military strength will decline dramatically." The aide said copies were sent to all senators.

May Modify Opposition to Deadline

By KENNETH J. FREED

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon may decide to modify opposition to the Viet Cong-North Vietnamese demand for a 1971 U.S. withdrawal date, administration sources say, in order to obtain release of American prisoners of war.

The Viet Cong, in a seven-point peace plan proposed July 1 at the Paris talks, said all U.S. prisoners would be released if the U.S. government would set a terminal date for withdrawal from South Vietnam in 1971.

Nixon has said repeatedly that withdrawal will depend on release of the POWs as well as the ability of the Saigon government to defend itself.

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time, American peace activists visiting Hanoi have returned with tape recordings purportedly carrying the voices of Americans held prisoners in South Vietnam.

Previous communications have been limited to prisoners held in the North. The tapes, released Wednesday, assert the prisoners are forming a peace movement of their own.

LONDON (AP) — Pierre Paul Schweitzer, managing director of the International Monetary Fund, has urged the United States and its major trading partners to adopt a compromise plan for overcoming the world monetary crisis.

Schweitzer's proposal, delivered to representatives of the world's 10 richest non-Communist nations meeting today, included upward revaluation of major European currencies and the Japanese yen and a devaluation of the U.S. dollar.

AP News Digest 100mph Winds Bring Heavy Rains, Tides

CAMERON, La. (AP) — Hurricane Edith lashed into the heavily populated Lafayette and Baton Rouge areas today with 90 mile an hour winds, tornadoes and heavy rains.

One death was reported. The storm had struck the shore at virtually deserted Cameron and the winds then were hitting 100 miles per hour as it headed northeastward into Louisiana and toward central Mississippi.

The fatality was reported at Lake Charles where a man was apparently washed overboard. Tornadoes struck two schools and several residential areas in Baton Rouge.

One teacher suffered a broken rib and seven pupils were cut by glass.

"Out of 1,300 students, we feel pretty well off," said one teacher at the St. Thomas More Catholic School.

Nearby, the Sherwood Plaza Shopping Center, in the eastern part of town, was reported destroyed.

Other tornadoes were reported in St. Martin's Parish and Iberia Parish.

The hurricane came ashore 30 miles east of Cameron, near the Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge in swampy rice growing country. That is about 50 miles from the Texas border.

Heavy rain was falling in Cameron, where winds early in the day were hitting 80 miles an hour.

Roland Trosclair, Civil Defense Director for Cameron who was among the officials remaining, said, "Rain is blowing heavy into us, but it is nothing alarming yet."

Contacted by shortwave radio, reported, "We've got some water in the street, maybe ankle deep. Most of that is from the rain, however, not tides."

He reported power was out in the area and telephone communications no longer working.

Onshore and off, the whole Louisiana coast was battered down and buttoned up as much as possible.

The billion-dollar offshore oil facilities were shut down or placed on automatic controls.

Drilling rigs as far east as the offshore area south of Biloxi, Miss., were prepared to head for harbor in case Edith kept edging east.

In cities all across south Louisiana, from Lake Charles to New Orleans, grocery and hardware stores did brisk sales to people stocking up on emergency supplies such as flashlight and radio batteries, canned goods and masking tape for reinforcing window glass.

Schools closed across most of the area, including those in New Orleans and other eastern areas not included in the first hurricane warning area.

Detention Camp Repeal to Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed and sent to President Nixon today a bill to repeal a 1950 law authorizing suspected spies and saboteurs to be rounded up and held in detention camps during war or an insurrection.

With less than half a dozen members present, the Senate quickly accepted without objection the bill the House passed by a 356-49 vote Tuesday after two days of heated debate.

The measure specifically prohibits the government from establishing detention camps without the consent of Congress.

British Clash With Rioters in Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops clashed early today with rioters protesting Northern Ireland's clampdown on the Irish Republican Army.

Bombs exploded in scattered sectors of Belfast, an electricity tower was blown down near Omagh and another blast shattered the front of a police station at Lisburn, injuring a young constable.

The string of incidents came in apparent response to Prime Minister Brian Faulkner's decision, announced Wednesday, to keep suspected IRA terrorists under indefinite internment without trial. The IRA wants to bring down Faulkner's Protestant-based government by force and reunite the British province with the Roman Catholic-dominated Irish Republic to the south.

Running battles between soldiers, gunmen and rampaging youths went on into the early hours of the morning in Belfast.

An army patrol was ambushed while clearing away a truck being used as a street barricade, but the troops fired back and "one man was seen to fall," military spokesmen said.

Four IRA men brandishing submachine guns kidnapped an Ulster policeman, drove him blindfolded into the Irish Republic and then set him free to stumble back across the border late Wednesday night.

Constable Cairns Culbert, 52, was unharmed after being held for six hours by the gunmen, who set his police car ablaze on the border between the north's County Tyrone and the republic's County Monaghan.

14 Americans Killed in War in Past Week

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 14 American servicemen were killed in action in Vietnam last week, the ninth straight week battlefield deaths remained under 20.

The casualty summary also listed 49 U.S. troops wounded in action last week, the lowest wounded total in six years.

Since mid-July U.S. battlefield deaths have been running generally at a six-year low, reflecting the disengagement of American forces.

The command also said 12 Americans died last week from nonhostile causes such as accidents and illness.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 264 South Vietnamese troops were killed in action last week, up 30 from the previous week, and 508 were wounded.

The U.S. summary said allied forces killed 1,070 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops last week, a sharp drop from the 1,743 claimed killed two weeks ago.

Witness Says Henderson Told to Probe

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer
FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — Col. Oran K. Henderson met in a cramped van with five other American Division officers two days after the My Lai massacre and was told officially of allegations that his troops slaughtered unresisting civilians, that he was to investigate and submit a report, a witness says.

The testimony of Lt. Col. Frederic W. Watke was the first in Henderson's court-martial relating to the orders given to the brigade commander. Henderson is charged with failing to carry out a mandate to investigate the March 16, 1968 massacre.

Watke, a much decorated commander of the helicopter company supporting the assault force, was to be called to the witness stand today after day-long questioning Wednesday. Court then was to be recessed at noon for Henderson's flight to Atlanta to testify Friday at the trial of a subordinate at My Lai, Capt. Ernest Medina.

Watke said he received word of noncombatant deaths from his pilots and relayed the story in turn to Lt. Col. John Holladay, his battalion commander; Lt. Col. Frank A. Barker, the task force commander and on March 17, to Brig. Gen. George H. Young, assistant division commander.

Then he was summoned to the meeting in Barker's operations van, Watke testified. Others there, he said, were Young, Barker, Holladay, Henderson and Maj. Charles C. Calhoun, the task force operations officer.

Young ordered him to tell his story to Henderson, Watke said. "I told him of the observation made by my aviators on the 16th, that there were non-combatant casualties; that they were in and around the city; that Mr. Thompson had observed eight people in a hooch area, confronted an officer, evacuated the people and threatened to shoot the ground troops if they interfered ..."

Earlier, Watke had told of being given that report by WO Hugh C. Thompson, now a captain. He said other pilots confirmed the story.

"Did you tell Col. Henderson the numbers of civilian casualties?" asked Maj. Carroll J. Tichenor, the prosecutor.

"I'm sure I did. I imparted to him the large number of people who were noncombatants who were dead," Watke said. The task force after action reports listed 128 dead and Watke said only three were armed enemy soldiers.

At the end of the meeting, Watke added, "Gen. Young instructed Col. Henderson to write a report and submit it to him."

Henderson, Young and Watke were charged with dereliction of duty along with 10 others. Only Henderson has been brought to trial. Young lost a star over the incident and the others still face administrative action.

Search for Pulaski Escapees

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Indiana police and the FBI were searching an area in Northeast Indiana Wednesday night for two federal prisoners who escaped last week from the Pulaski County Jail in Little Rock, Ark.

The two were identified as William E. Coulter, a native of Texas, and David Murtaugh of Detroit. The two were among four federal prisoners who escaped from the jail last Thursday night. The other two were later captured in Georgia.

The FBI said Coulter and Murtaugh were believed to have robbed an Indianapolis bank Tuesday of $2,400. The pair fled in a stolen car that was later found abandoned in a wooded area.

mission Wednesday of underestimating the power of the poison used in the kill.

was expected to be formalized today at a meeting at the U.S. mission.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers acknowledged in a news conference Sept. 3 that the United States had found strong support for giving the council seat to Peking and that the proposal was under consideration.

Diplomatic sources said the only thing remaining was to formalize the revised resolution and submit it to the United Nations. The draft was expected to be made public today or Friday, depending upon how many countries were ready to sign immediately as sponsors.

The China debate is scheduled to come up in the General Assembly after the opening round of policy statements, probably around the middle of October.

The assembly already has before it a resolution sponsored by Albania and 17 other countries, calling for the seating of Peking and the expulsion of the Nationalist Chinese. A similar resolution received 51 favorable votes to 49 against last year, but was defeated because the assembly had decided this was an "important question" requiring a two-thirds majority.

The United States is expected to submit a second resolution declaring that any move to expel Nationalist China is an "important question." This would make the two-thirds requirement applicable to expulsion, but not to the seating of Communist China. The seating question would be handled by a simple majority vote.

The outcome of the voting is expected to be close. Some delegations are expected to oppose dual representation because of Peking's declaration that it will have nothing to do with the United Nations as long as Taiwan remains a member.

State Farm Insurance Makes Rebates

Residents of the Hope area are among the 120,000 Arkansas motorists who begin this week sharing a $400,000 auto insurance windfall, Dick Schrader, State Farm agent in Hope, announced.

William D. Sanders, regional vice president for State Farm in its Monroe regional office, said policyholders will be notified of the amount of the dividend they have coming with their regular premium notice.

"Most of our private passenger car insurance customers will get a dividend amounting to 6.1 percent of his insurance bill," Sanders said. The amount per policyholder depends upon the amount of each individual's bill, but Sanders estimated the total effect in the state would be "something in excess of $400,000 being returned to our customers."

The dividend will be paid as a credit on the next premium due. For people who do not wish to renew their policy with State Farm, the payment will be made by check.

Sanders told a Little Rock news conference that the Arkansas dividend resulted from a number of things, "one of them being our desire to do right by our policyholders." Other factors cited were a reduction in the number of accidents by Arkansas insureds, careful company management, a downward trend in the economy and state safety programs.

As a mutual company State Farm has no stockholders. Its policyholders are, in effect, its owners. Thus, profits over and above those needed to insure the company's financial position are returned to its policyholders either in the form of lower rates or, as in this case, by dividends.

"Here in Arkansas," Sanders said, "I believe that the highway safety programs and improved highway design that we've seen put into effect here in the last year have also helped a lot. We work a lot in traffic safety and talk a lot about it, too. And I'm sure there are people who wonder if all of that effort pays off. I think we've got a pretty good demonstration here that it does. ... in this case to the tune of over $400,000 for the people of Arkansas."

49 Enemy Killed by Vietnamese

By RICHARD PYLE
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing 49 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong today in the heaviest contact since launching a "spoiling" operation to upset an expected enemy offensive in the Mekong Delta's U Minh forest.

A senior American noncommissioned officer was killed, field reports said, when a stray round struck him as he rode in a helicopter over a battle.

Officials said the helicopter carried a U.S. deputy senior adviser to the South Vietnamese 21st Division, but that the division commander and his senior U.S. adviser were not aboard.

Initial reports from the field, first confirmed by military sources but later denied by an official spokesman in the delta, said the U.S. helicopter was carrying Maj. Gen. Nguyen Vinh Nghi and Col. J. Ross Franklin, of Denver, Colo. and that the helicopter was shot down.

The spokesman said this report was untrue. Those aboard the craft, he said, were the four-man crew, Lt. Col. Lowell White, of Fayetteville, N.C., and the sergeant who was killed. None of the others was injured.

The 49 enemy killed in fighting in the U Minh raised to 78 the number reported slain in two days of the operation.

Units began moving into the remote canal-laced region after intelligence indicated enemy forces were planning an offensive in the area, field sources said.

Twenty-nine enemy troops were killed Wednesday, 22 in an ambush that also resulted in one South Vietnamese death, Saigon headquarters said.

The field report said rockets and mortars were fired at all major 21st Division firebases in the U Minh forest during the night but there was no immediate word on casualties.

In Saigon, casualties stood at 15 killed and 57 wounded in the bombing of a popular downtown nightclub, the worst terrorist blast in the capital in more than six years.

The dead included one American civilian, an employee of a contracting firm, and 14 Vietnamese. Among the wounded were another American civilian worker and seven servicemen. The explosion in the Tu Do nightclub, a gaudy bar and nightclub strip frequented by Vietnamese and foreigners, climaxed three days of firebombings and other public disturbances in Saigon and Hue.

No further incidents were reported today in either city.

Mariner 9 Streaking Toward Mars

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Mariner 9, streaking toward Mars, is expected to send back information describing the planet's daily and seasonal weather patterns, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration says.

The spacecraft is programmed to gather and send back 15 times as much information about the planet's terrain, climate and atmosphere as was learned from the two Mariner flybys in 1969, NASA officials said Wednesday.

Mariner 9 should arrive at the planet Nov. 13 and orbit for at least three months.

A television camera on board is capable of sending back 5,000 pictures daily, Robert H. Steinbacher, Mariner 9 project scientist. The two previous missions yielded 227 pictures of Mars.

Chance of Rain for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The chance of precipitation has returned to the Arkansas forecast.

Showers and thunderstorms are likely in the southeast section of the state today and tonight before tapering off Friday. There is also a chance of scattered showers and thundershowers over the rest of the state.

The rainfall is being produced by two quite different weather systems — an almost stationary frontal system over the northern portion of the state and Hurricane Edith which is bearing down on the western Louisiana coast.

A very large mass of quite cool air covers all of the north central and northwest sections of the country this morning and this air appears likely to spread southeastward into Arkansas. Such movement may produce night time temperatures in the 40s and 50s by the weekend with highs reaching only the 60s and 70s.

Highs Wednesday ranged from the mid to high 80s in the northwest to the low and mid 90s in the central and west central sections. Highs today should be in the mid 70s to mid 80s with highs Friday mostly in the 70s.

Lows tonight are forecast in the high 40s in the northwest portion of the state to the mid 60s in other sections.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 56, Harrison 56, Pine Bluff 70, Jonesboro 67, El Dorado 69, Memphis 71, Little Rock 68 and Fort Smith 65.

Brokers Use Money of Customers

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) —

Among the lingering behavioral oddities of some brokerage firms, which always have liked to make their own rules, is the practice of using customers' money to finance their own trading.

Some firms argue that to deny them the use of money left in these accounts—money that isn't theirs—would impose a hardship on them. They insist that while the money isn't theirs, the right to use it is.

Moreover, for the use of this money they wish to pay no interest, arguing that to do so would complicate their affairs. They cite precedent for their no-interest stand: Banks don't pay on checking accounts.

One big difference between bank and brokerage practice, however, involves the quality of operations. Brokerage house bookkeeping, as has been shown again and again, is vulnerable to serious criticism.

Millions of dollars of certificates have been lost. Millions more have been stolen—more than $21 million worth in three years, according to the state attorney general's office. Several big brokerage houses have been dissolved or merged after encountering financial difficulties.

In short, while much of the industry is emerging from its recent financial and paperwork problems stronger than before, past practices show that some individual firms could be charged not only with imprudence but irresponsibility as well.

Estimates indicate that "free credit balances," or money left in customer accounts, totals about $2 billion, mainly in small amounts. One study showed a median size of $70, which usually was turned over in days or weeks.

The industry feels that while such amounts might be too small to earn interest payments for the customers, they are not too small to be used for a variety of potentially profitable and sometimes risky transactions by the brokers.

"The Pat Bates Singers" will entertain following the supper.

Bernard Says GOPs to Have a Candidate

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Charles T. Bernard of Earle, chairman of the state Republican party, said Wednesday in a "clarification" statement that he had never said the GOP would not have a candidate to oppose Gov. Dale Bumpers next year.

Responding to criticism of his remarks Monday implying that the Republican party might not sponsor a candidate against Bumpers, Bernard said it was his "fondest hope" that a Republican would be elected governor next year.

"We do not consider any Democratic incumbent as unbeatable if we are able to offer a better alternative," Bernard said.

Bernard had implied originally that the GOP might not have a gubernatorial candidate next year if Bumpers looked unbeatable. He had said: "I see no reason to knock our heads against a stone wall," adding that it would be "foolish to contend for the sake of contention."

In Wednesday's statement, Bernard said: "What I should have gone on to say is that the Republican party will present candidates for the purpose of offering positive alternatives for the people of the state of Arkansas."

Bernard said the GOP would offer "strong, well-qualified candidates who will demonstrate the merits of a viable two-party system in action."

Bernard's original comments had stirred criticism from a number of Republicans, including former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

TIPS ON FISHING AND BOATING

"FISH TALK"

THE "TWO-ROD" FISHERMAN

Most anglers know bass fishing is a hit-or-miss proposition, but three things are bound to happen. (1) They are hitting top-water lures. (2) They are hitting under-water lures. (3) They're not hitting, period! If they are hitting you can shorten the odds by rigging up one rod with a top-water lure, another with an under-water lure. Whichever produces first, keep using it. Another advantage is that should one outfit get damaged you always have a spare ready for action.

Success can be a hit or miss proposition, too. You can shorten the odds by having savings available when opportunity comes. Start now to build a success fund - large and small accounts are equally welcome.

Give to Fight Cystic Fibrosis

The efforts of millions of volunteer and contributors to the current Breath of Life campaign some day may conquer lung-damaging diseases of children as they once conquered polio, according to Georgia Bledsoe, County Chairman for the Arkansas Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

"We fought polio and won," said Mrs. Bledsoe. "Now we are tackling diseases that are stealing the breath of five million children in the United States. The most serious is cystic fibrosis, a genetic disease. But children with severe asthma, chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis and a condition of over-inflation of the lungs sometimes called childhood emphysema have much the same symptoms and respond to similar treatment."

"Scientific research and 116 Diagnostic and Treatment Centers associated with the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation across the nation are the two powerful arms of the Breath of Life program."

The Nike Club girls, Mary Jane Reyenga, Dee Singleton, and Sandra McFarland will complete the industrial and business drive today.

THE GENERATION GAP

—by Helen and Sue Bottel

PUNISHMENT OVER- SHADOWS CRIME

Dear Sue and Helen:

I am a 16-year-old guy who is being punished for not much of anything—I think.

Last Friday the kids we eat lunch with weren't at school, so my friend Pam and I got a check-out to come home for lunch. The telephone rang while we were eating and it was Mom's loud-mouthed friend. She asked me why I was there, and not wanting to get into a big explanation, I said I was sick.

When she came over Saturday, first thing she asked was if I was feeling better, which caused Mom to explode because she didn't know I came home, being at work.

Since this woman shot off her mouth, I have had to wash dishes, sweep and mop floors and that kind of stupid work. I can't leave the yard after school, or drive the car, or listen to my stereo for three weeks, of which only about one is gone—and if you think Mom's the type to back down, forget it!

Isn't this too darn rough? — H.C.

SUE'S VIEWS:

Dear H.:

No Kiddin', it's too darn rough! Getting a check-out isn't cutting school.

Your mother should at least listen to your explanation and if she hasn't, I'd be tempted to "accidentally" break a glass while washing dishes; do a lousy job on the floors (boys are always sloppy, y'know); and

Mr. and Mrs. Corbin Foster have returned from Houston where they attended The National Shoe Fair.

Mayes, Mrs. Bernice Dunn, Farmington, Mo.; Mrs. Lola Graves, St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. Jose Hermosillo, Guadalajara, Mex.; the Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Willard, Bossier City; Mrs. Byron Jones, Little Rock. Out-of-town friends included: Mrs. C. R. Willard, Dallas; Mrs. Mary Rike, Dalton Rike, Wichita, Kan.; Charles Wheeler, Cherokee, Kan.; Mrs. W. H. Tate, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dobbins, Gayle McGrew, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Smith, Texarkana.

Mr. and Mrs. Syd McMath came home Monday from Marblehead, Mass., where they spent the summer.

sing at the top of my lungs in place of the stereo.

Maybe she'd reduce the sentence in exchange for a little peace and quiet. —SUE HELEN YELLIN: And maybe she'd EXTEND the sentence because mothers can turn even stubborn when kids turn sloppy-on-purpose. Remember back, Sue? Parents aren't that easily conned. . . and you should know!

I agree the punishment DOES seem rough, but did H.C. finish his story? Tell me, H., were you and Pam in school that afternoon. . . Or where? —H.

Dear Bottels: My best friend is my biggest problem. I'm known as a "good little girl." Toni is the opposite. I consider her a great person, even if I don't like the things she does. She just marches to a different drum.

Toni has taken drugs, smokes grass, sells the stuff from her brother's marijuana plants. She thought she was pregnant once and the next time she really was, but had a miscarriage. Recently she fell madly in love (again), and went to bed with a guy she'd known exactly two days. It happens often.

On the other side of the picture, she is a straight A student and the most interesting person I've ever met. She's really turned on to life and lives about twice for everyone else's once. Her main ambitions are to get married, have babies and become a psychologist, though not necessarily in that order.

She tells me things that worry me awfully and she's getting farther out all the time. Don't worry—she isn't influencing me into her kind of life, but I'm wondering if I can lead her out of this wildness. Should I tell her, tell her mother, drop her, or just keep on being—LISTENER NUMBER ONE.

SUE'S VIEWS:

Dear L.N.O.: If Toni's mother doesn't already know what's going on, she's probably too uncaring or estranged from her children to be much help. Talking to her might only make matters worse.

Do let Toni know you're terribly worried, but don't preach. Maybe what she needs most is to feel that someone cares enough to come straight out with opinions.

If she won't listen, then she doesn't deserve a best friend like you, and I'd consider cooling it. "Wildness" sometimes rubs off in spite of good intentions. —SUE FROM HELEN:

It's a one-sided relationship when you only listen and don't express your views. Granted, Toni is fascinating, but she may be using you as an actress uses an audience: to impress, suffer with her, and possibly persuade. I think you're more than a little awed, and you know the next step: a swing-over! If you aren't strong enough to shoot down HER doubtful values, you'd better get out of range.

Best friends need lots in common—which, unless Toni asks for help—you haven't got and don't want! —H.

Hope Star SPORTS

Kittens Here Tonight; Cats to Sheridan

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

As another Friday night draws closely near, the Hope Bobcats continue to work hard, hoping to capture their second victory in three tries.

Although defensive tackle Bubba Powers has returned to full scale workouts after his injury last week, blood end Wade Harris will probably be a doubtful starter after suffering a foot injury in last Monday's B-team game at Magnolia. Everyone else should be ready.

Sheridan is a large ballclub with a lot of players. The Yellowjackets were picked to win their conference this year and with two separate platoons, except for one player, the Jackets could have the most backup depth of any team.

After last Friday's loss to Lakeside, Sheridan fell to a 1-1 mark, the same as Hope. Sheridan, with the offensive line averaging 177 pounds per man, is led by quarterback Mike Alexander, a 145 pounder, with fairly good speed. Alexander's most talented running back will be fullback Danny Young, 160 pounder speedster with plenty of power.

Also running the ball will be halfbacks Bobby Bradford and Robert Irvin. Bradford weighs 135 pounds while Irvin is a little heavier at 150.

Ends Doug Mathis and Dennis Rogers, both weighing 165 pounds each, will be doing the receiving. Both have fairly good hands and good size.

Interior wise, the Yellowjackets have a large line with Center Donny Hill as the anchor man. Also up front are guards Randy Blake and Phillip Farmer, and tackles Eddie Koon and Randy Townson. Townson is the largest at 205 pounds while Hill the smallest at 155.

Running mostly a 5-4 defense, the Sheridan forward wall is led by tackles Jimmy Graham and Koon. Koon is the only two-way starter for the Yellowjackets this year.

Don Winston and Lee Morris are the two defensive ends and both weigh 165 each and are pretty quick. Linebackers include Phillip Eagle and Randy Blake while the secondary consists of Steve Hester and Steve Wood at the cornerbacks and Larry Hartman and Bob Harper at the halfbacks. Hester is the largest at 170 pounds.

Sheridan runs the same punt return as the Bobcats and they have a pretty good all-around kicking game, which could give the Yellowjackets a big boost out of goal line trouble should the situation arise.

Garnet time has been moved up to 7:30 p.m. kickoff with live pregame activities starting at about 7:15 on KXAR radio with Mike Huckabee.

Tonight the Hope Bobkittens host the Ashdown Panther Cubs in Hammons Stadium at 7:30 p.m. Working hard all week the Kittens will be after their first victory of the year after a scoreless game last week with Prescott. And with an impressive offense they should get it!

Also, next Friday, September 24, the Hope Junior Auxiliary will hold a spaghetti supper from five to seven o'clock at the High School cafeteria preceding the Hope-Fairview game. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and .75 for children and the money will go for the Benefit Scholarship Fund.

Razorbacks in Final Workout

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —

The Arkansas Razorbacks were to hold their final workout today before Saturday's game against Oklahoma State. Coach Frank Broyles said the team would practice in shorts.

The Porkers practiced Wednesday in a steady rain. Broyles said it was the first time the team had practiced in the rain. "I think it did us some good to practice under wet conditions," he said.

The defense spent Wednesday concentrating on pass defense.

Outlook of OU Is Very Different

By HARRY KING

Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Oklahoma State will come to Little Rock this week with a different attitude than in the past.

"The important thing to us is that we're going over there as winners whereas in the past our teams have gone over there to play well," said OSU Coach Floyd Gass in a telephone interview. "To heck with that, we're going over there to win."

The Cowboys, 26-7 winners over Mississippi State last week, meet sixth-ranked Arkansas Saturday night at Little Rock.

In 1970, OSU opened with a 14-13 loss to Mississippi State and then dropped a 23-7 decision to Arkansas. Eight times between 1960 and 1969, Arkansas and Oklahoma State opened the season against each other and each time the Razorbacks were victorious. Arkansas opened with a loss to Mississippi in 1961 and the Cowboys defeated the Razorbacks 7-6 in 1967 after tying Air Force 0-0.

"Having a win under our belt will help us," Gass said. "Our boys really enjoy playing Arkansas and if we play well I think it will be a pretty good football game."

He said some phases of the Cowboys' performance against Mississippi State were "outstanding" and others not as good.

"We had some mechanical errors which can be corrected," he said. "One phases we have to improve on is the kicking game."

Jim Benien, the Big Eight's top punter in 1970, averaged only 35 yards a kick and Uew Pruss missed two field goals because of high snaps from center.

Gass said he had viewed the film of Arkansas' 51-20 opening victory over California and was impressed.

"They looked good, real good," he said. "They have a stronger offense than they have had in the past and the defense performed well for the opening game. Make no bones about it, Arkansas has an excellent team. They have an excellent quarterback in Joe Ferguson plus numerous other strong points."

Ferguson, in his first college start, completed 16 of 27 passes for 228 yards and two touchdowns and scored once.

"I thought he had an outstanding ball game," Gass said. "He has a great deal of talent. His timing on his passing was tremendous."

Gass also said he was impressed with the Razorbacks' offensive line which prevented California from dumping Ferguson for a loss.

"I think this is one of the factors that makes Arkansas so strong," Gass said. "You just don't get to their passer."

OSU employs several offensive sets and its attack features quarterbacks Tony Pounds and Brent Blackmon and flanker Dick Graham.

Graham, a 5-foot-9, 178-pound senior, caught five passes for 140 yards and a touchdown against Mississippi State and returned a punt 81 yards for another score.

"He makes things happen," Gass said. "He is the most complete football player I've ever seen."

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles warned earlier in the week that OSU would come to Little Rock with more confidence than ever before. Sounds like Gass is talking the same language.

Indians Are Spirited, Says Trainer

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) —

Coach Bill Davidson said the Arkansas State Indians held a "spirited" workout Wednesday night in preparation for Saturday's game with Wichita State. Davidson singled out offensive linemen Jerry Reinman, Scott Foster and Doug Lowrey who will face starting roles for the first time Saturday night.

"They're really coming to the front," said Davidson. "They've reached a point where they need a test."

Davidson said quarterback James Hamilton's passing was as sharp Wednesday night as it had ever been.

Winning Blow Called Nice Little Hit

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer

"Nice little hit there, bud,"

Charles O. Finley smiled, patting Sal Bando on the back.

The hit was anything but little, though. It was big in distance—a two-run homer in the eighth inning—and big in meaning, powering Oakland to a 3-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox Wednesday to give the A's the American League West championship.

Actually, Bando didn't give it to them. Kansas City did.

The runner-up Royals, by winning against California, would have held onto a mathematical chance of tying Oakland for the flag, particularly after the A's lost 7-3 to the White Sox in the second half of their two-night doubleheader.

But the Royals eliminated themselves from contention while Oakland was halfway through its second game, losing 6-2 to the Angels and giving the A's their first title since 1931 when Ron Mack piloted the Philadelphia Athletics to the American League pennant.

In other American League action, the New York Yankees beat Baltimore 4-2, Boston edged Cleveland 6-5, Detroit topped Washington 4-2 and Minnesota squeezed by Milwaukee 1-0.

"Just winning it, getting it all over with, was a big relief to all of us," Bando said after his blast, which followed Reggie Jackson's double, handed 20-game winner Wilbur Wood his 12th loss and gave the triumph to recently reacquired Jim "Mudcat" Grant.

"We were trying too hard and not scoring any runs lately," Bando said. The A's had lost seven of their previous 12 games. "We were spinning our wheels and standing still."

With 13 games still to go before the A's enter the American League playoffs—presumably against Baltimore—Bando said there are two ways of looking at the rest of the season.

"First, it's true we may not stay real sharp mentally. But secondly, it gives us a lot of time to rest up and get our pitching primed and ready."

Jackson threw Manager Dick Williams into a shower after the twin-bill, then went after Finley, the A's flamboyant owner who bought the club in 1961 and moved them from Kansas City to Oakland in 1968.

But Finley stopped his young outfielder with the remark: "Let's wait'll we win everything—then you can do what you want."

Andy Messersmith fired a four-hitter for the Angels and sparked their four-run second inning with a two-run homer. California also collected five singles off Bruce Dal Canton in the uprising.

Ken Berry knocked in the Angels' final two runs with an eighth-inning double. Messersmith, boosting his record to 17-13 with his sixth victory in seven starts, limited the Royals to unearned runs in the sixth and seventh innings.

Bobby Murcer snapped a seventh-inning 1-1 tie against Baltimore's 18-game winner, Mike Cuellar, with his 24th home run of the year, then Ron Swoboda wrapped up the Yankees' victory with a two-run single in the ninth. Ron Hansen also homered for the Yanks and Brooks Robinson had one for the Orioles.

Joe Lahoud's two-out runscoreing double in the top of the ninth gave the Red Sox their victory after the Indians tied in the eighth on Ted Uhlaender's RBI single. Rico Petrocelli hit a two-run homer for the Red Sox.

Denny McLain, a 31-game winner with Detroit three years ago before being traded to Washington, became the major league's first 20-game loser this season as his former Tiger teammates rode homers by Aurelio Rodriguez and Jim Northrup to their triumph over the Senators.

Padres Keep Dodgers a Game Back

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer
There won't be any playoff or World Series money for San Diego's Dave Roberts but the Padres' tough left-hander looms as a big man in the National League West pennant race.

Roberts pitched San Diego a 2-1 victory over Los Angeles Wednesday night, keeping the Dodgers a game back of the West-leading San Francisco Giants, who lost 4-2 to Cincinnati.

And he did it a day ahead of schedule.

Manager Preston Gomez moved Roberts up a day in his pitching rotation so that his ace lefty will be able to pitch twice in the six games the Padres have left with the Giants.

Roberts' record is only 13-15 but it's with a club that has a 56-93 mark—and his 1.92 earned run average is second only to New York's Tom Seaver among NL starters.

While the West race remained unchanged, Pittsburgh took a big step toward the East flag by beating St. Louis 4-1 and opening up an 8½-game bulge over the second-place Cardinals.

Elsewhere in the NL, Chicago swept the New York Mets 6-2 and 3-2, Atlanta topped Houston 4-2 and Montreal edged Philadelphia 1-0.

"It's no disgrace losing to a guy like him," Los Angeles Manager Walt Alston said after Roberts scattered eight hits and pitched out of a bases loaded jam in the third inning to snap the Dodgers' winning streak at eight games.

The Padres, beating the Dodgers for only the fourth time in 17 meetings, took a 1-0 lead in the second inning when Leron Lee and Larry Stahl singled and Lee scored when pitcher Don Sutton threw wild after fielding a bunt.

Stahl homered in the sixth after the Dodgers had tied it in the second on Sutton's RBI infield single.

Pete Rose's run-scoring triple and Lee May's RBI single, in the fifth snapped a 1-1 tie and sent the Giants to their third straight loss and 10th in 11 games. The Reds' Jim McGlothlin held the stumbling Giants to six hits, including homers by Willie McCovey and Dick Dietz.

Pittsburgh's Dock Ellis, pitching for the first time in two weeks because of elbow trouble, worked seven innings to run his record to 19-7. Most of his offensive help came in the fourth on Dave Cash's RBI single and Al Oliver's two-run homer.

Ted Simmons homered for St. Louis, which lost for the third time in four games while the Pirates were winning for the ninth time in 11.

Bill Hands pitched a five-hitter and drove in two runs as the Cubs beat the Mets in the opener. Then Burt Hooton yielded only three hits—none for 6-2-3 innings, and Billy Williams hit a ninth-inning homer as Chicago completed the sweep.

Hank Aaron's 14th homer in the last 24 games—his 44th of the season and 636th of his career—and Phil Niekro's four-hit pitching highlighted Atlanta's victory over Houston.

Montreal's victory came on the four-hit pitching of Ernie McAnally and Bobby Wine's sacrifice fly following a three-base error by Philadelphia second baseman Denny Doyle in the eighth inning. The Phillies' Woody Fryman pitched a six-hitter.

Dolphins' Head Coach Shivers With Joy

By HUBERT MIZELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI (AP) — Don Shula doesn't talk about it, but the Miami Dolphins' head coach must shiver with joy at the thought of outdoing the world champion Baltimore Colts.

Shula and Colt owner Carroll Rosenbloom are "don't invite them to the same locker room" since the millionaire shirtmaker uttered unkind remarks when Don defected from Baltimore 20 months ago.

Although the Dolphins won two of three 1970 battles against Baltimore, Rosenbloom wound up outgrinning Shula when the Colts won the Super Bowl.

That was one of Carroll's complaints about Shula, that he "seldom wins the big ones."

Now, Shula gets another chance to cause a Rosenbloom frown. With Joe Namath's future uncertain with the New York Jets, most experts forecast a Miami-Baltimore fight for the title in the American Conference East.

Winning anything pleases taskmaster Shula. But beating out the Colts, well ...

Miami's offense was potent, if not overpowering, during a surprising 10-4 season in 1970. The main horses are brutish runners Larry Csonka and Jim Kiick with a fancy-stepping assist from Mercury Morris.

Bob Griese, who overcame a three-game losing skid a year ago to ignite the Dolphins to a six-game winning streak, has always been an excellent short passer. He now has the confidence to go for the bomb, too, since Miami acquired the incomparable Paul Warfield from Cleveland.

Former Brown tackle Monte Clark produced a vastly-improved offensive line last year in his first season as an assistant coach and his bunch is even more solid now, but lacks depth.

Larry Little may be the finest offensive guard in football and, with seven-year pro Norm Evans at tackle, gives the right side of the Miami line plenty of punch.

Otto Stowe from Iowa State is one of the few rookies given a chance of cracking the regular lineup. He is battling six-year man Howard Twilley for the wideout post opposite Warfield.

"We had scads of rookies starting a year ago," said Shula, "but they're all veterans now. That helps to make us a young team and it makes it rougher for a rookie to get a starting job."

Smith Takes Forrest Hills Singles Title

By WILL GRIMSLEY

AP Special Correspondent
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Big time tennis—color it green.

Green is the color of grass, the surface of championships at Wimbledon, Forest Hills and Australia.

"Tennis on grass is a joke," insists Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia, runner-up to Stan Smith Wednesday for the men's singles championship.

"You never know about the bounce. The game depends too much on luck."

"I'm against grass," agreed Smith, the Army private from Ft. McNair, Va. "It is basically unfair."

"I think we should get rid of grass," said Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., who beat Rosemary Casals for the women's crown. "Grass is a great equalizer—you never know when you're going to get a bad bounce."

Grass is one of the traditions—such as all-white tennis attire and involved scoring expressions such as 15, love and deuce—which have endured through the years in this originally snobbish sport.

While it was good for men in straw sailors and women in multiple petticoats to pat the ball back and forth in the 1890s, most observers contend the surface is now archaic.

The best players of Europe, Asia, Africa and South America never see grass until they have to play at Wimbledon or Forest Hills. The world's most used surface is clay. Many—as in California—play on concrete.

"This makes grass a big disadvantage to most of the world's players," argues Kodes.

William F. Talbert, former champion who served as chairman of the U.S. Open this year, also says that the modern trend is away from grass.

"With millions taking up the game, I think we will be forced—even in our big championships—to turn to some artificial surface that has the same quality as grass but gives a consistent bounce" he said.

He is in favor of such a surface for the National Championships, but the West Side Tennis Club is reluctant to plow up its 23 grass courts and install a substitute.

"You can't blame them," said Gene Scott, assistant to Talbert in the Open. "Grass is pleasant to play on. Esthetically and visually grass is great. If you put in concrete or a substitute surface, it would look like a parking lot."

"I'm in favor of installing clay courts, keeping some of the grass for beauty. But I don't think the club would submit to such a plan."

For winning the men's title, Smith received $20,000 but all of it goes to the USLTA Davis Cup Fund. It's Army orders.

"I've no mind to argue with the Army," said Smith.

Smith also was awarded a new $3,000 car. He can't keep that either. "The army says 'No,'" explained Smith's business manager, Donald Dell.

Kodes, as runner-up, received $7,500 prize money and $2,500 expenses. He comes from a Communist country, where the state is supposed to own everything.

Asked if he had to give any of it to the Czech Tennis Association, Kodes replied: "No, I keep it all. They don't pay my expenses. I pay everything myself. Why should I give my purse to them?"

Billie Jean King won $5,000 plus $2,500 plus a $3,000 car. "I keep it all," she said. "But I am mad because the tournament wouldn't let Virginia Slims boost the women's purse to the same size as the men's. You have to consider the entertainment value. In this tournament—with Chris Evert playing as she did—the women drew more people than the men."

Picks Vikings, Dallas, 49ers for Titles

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — With Washington's dreams of glory as broken as Sonny Jurgensen's arm, Los Angeles' roster a patchwork quilt and Detroit's waning strength, 1971 appears likely to prove an instant replay of 1970 in the National Football Conference.

George Allen, who brought a flock of his Rams to Washington and traded away future draft choices to stock the Redskins with proven talent, will be without Jurgensen, his No. 1 weapon, for perhaps half the season, which all but guarantees the Dallas Cowboys another Eastern Division championship.

The Rams, under new Coach Tommy Prothro from the collegiate ranks at UCLA, have been inconsistent at best—despite a preseason victory over San Francisco—and that opens the door to another Western title grab by the very consistent 49ers.

And Minnesota—well, the Vikings are, simply, the Vikings, standing so deep in talent just about everywhere that they should breeze to the Central crown while Detroit's Lions, their only challenger last season, fade into the rest of the pack.

Here's how the races look from here:

Eastern Division—1, Dallas. 2, St. Louis, 3, Washington. 4, Philadelphia. 5, New York.

Central Division—1, Minnesota. 2, Detroit. 3, Green Bay. 4, Chicago.

Western Division—1, San Francisco. 2, Los Angeles. 3, Atlanta. 4, New Orleans.

Give Craig Morton or Roger Staubach the ball for the Cow-tute surface, it would look like a parking lot.

"I'm in favor of installing clay courts, keeping some of the grass for beauty. But I don't think the club would submit to such a plan."

Oakland A's Finally Have Another Shot

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Dick Williams, a managerial castoff after producing an American League pennant for the Boston Red Sox, is back on top with a shot at another World Series with his Oakland A's.

This time Williams must steer his newly crowned AL West champion A's past the probable East title-winning Baltimore Orioles in a playoff before repeating his World Series appearance of 1967 when there were no playoffs.

Still dripping wet from a push into the showers by the A's who Wednesday night clinched the division crown by splitting with the Chicago White Sox, Williams conceded Baltimore might have one advantage against the A's.

"They've played in this thing before and our fellows haven't," said Williams. "We'll probably be a little more nervous going in, but after the first pitch we'll be okay."

The A's, who defeated the White Sox 3-2 in Wednesday night's opener on Sal Bando's two-run homer in the eighth, nailed the West bunting even before booting away the finale 7-2.

"People in box seats behind our dugout told us Kansas City had lost to California, 6-2, in the middle of the second game and that we had the pennant sewed up," explained Williams.

Except for the dunking of Williams and an Oakland baseball writer thrown bodily into the showers by Reggie Jackson, it was a comparatively quiet champagne clubhouse celebration.

The real victory party will be thrown for the A's by owner Charles O. Finley today at his farm at nearby LaPorte, Ind.

Jackson made a menacing move to carry Finley into the showers Wednesday night, but the Chicago insurance magnate quickly stalled the brawny player with: "Let's wait until we win it. If we get into the World Series, then I'm all yours."

Williams, quietly munching a spaghetti dish and drinking a beer, described his first Oakland club as a "better unit, a better club all-around and with better harmony" than his Boston Red Sox of 1967.

"I know opening the playoffs at Baltimore puts pressure on us," said Williams, "but we have an outstanding road record."

Indeed the A's do, with a chance of topping the 1939 New York Yankee record of 54 road victories when they take a 52-game total to Milwaukee Friday for their final three road games.

Williams said from now until the season's end he would rest his regulars as much as possible and use his big pitching three, Vida Blue, Chuck Dobson and Jim Hunter, a maximum of five innings in any start.

"That way we can keep them sharp but not overworked and give our relievers a good tuning up," said Williams.

Karras Will Not Play for Redskins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Alex Karras can't play football for the Detroit Lions and won't play for the Washington Redskins.

The block-busting defensive tackle was placed on waivers by the Lions Monday night and nixed an offer to play for the Redskins Wednesday.

"I'm grateful for the offer but no thanks," the 6-foot-2, 250-pound veteran told Redskins Coach George Allen.

The National Football League later voided Washington's claim on Karras, saying his contract is non-assignable.

The NFL said Karras is, in effect, a free agent and can sign with whichever team he desires.

Karras wasn't the only one upset by the cut.

The Detroit News reported its switchboard was jammed with protest calls and phones as the Lions office jangled with calls from irate fans eager to express their criticism of the move.

Karras said he received the word from Lions Coach Joe Schmidt, a former team captain with the NFL club.

"When they told me Joe wanted to talk to me, I figured he wanted to talk something over with me. Then he mumbled something about me being out on waivers."

Karras, 36, who spent 13 seasons with the Lions, was noted for his hard-driving style that punctured front lines and upended enemy quarterbacks.

Karras, an outspoken athlete who admits he didn't get along with some of the Detroit management, was suspended by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle in 1963 for allegedly wagering on games. During his suspension he had a brief stint as a professional wrestler.

Elsewhere in the NFL, Houston Oilers Coach Ed Hughes had nice things to say about everyone especially his team and its opponent Sunday, the Cleveland Browns.

Hughes led off a news conference by predicting the Oilers would capture the American Football Conference Central Division title. He described Cleveland as a "solid ball team."

U.S. Remains Favorite for Ryder Cup

By PAUL LeBAR

Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Lee Trevino was on the sidelines for the morning rounds, but America's non-playing captain Jay Hebert remained confident as biennial Ryder Cup golf matches began today over Old Warson Country Club's 7,272-yard course.

"He's not that strong right now," the 48-year-old Hebert explained in omitting Trevino from the U. S. lineup against Britain's best. Trevino last month underwent an appendectomy.

"He tries to pretend he is," Hebert added in reference to Trevino, who this year made a whirlwind sweep of U. S., Canadian and British Open titles but has since played only sporadically.

"I think if we needed him badly enough he could play the opening round. We've got three days to play, however, and I imagine he'll see enough action."

Those selected to represent the United States during four morning Scotch foursome matches against the British included Billy Casper, paired with Miller Barber; Arnold Palmer, whose partner is Gardner Dickinson; and Jack Nicklaus, paired with Dave Stockton.

The other U.S. twosome consisted of Masters champion Charles Coody, who was to match alternate shots with Frank Beard against Britain's Maurice Bembridge and Peter Butler.

Casper and the meticulous Barber were to lead off against British veterans Christy O'Connor, making his ninth Cup appearance, and Neil Coles, in his sixth biennial test.

Two British youngsters, Peter Townsend and Peter Costerhuis, were aligned against Palmer and Dickinson in the second match. Pitted against Nicklaus, whose earnings for the year exceed $207,000, and Stockton were former U. S. and British Open champion Tony Jacklin and 34-year-old Brian Huggett.

Hebert and British non-playing captain Eric Brown had the option of changing their lineups for four Scotch foursome matches scheduled in the afternoon, and both indicated they would.

One player certain to sit out the afternoon matches was the 40-year-old Casper, who discovered 48 hours before the competition he has a broken toe. "He's only been playing 18 holes a day," Hebert said.

Controversy Mounts Over Riot Deaths

By BRIAN B. KING
Associated Press Writer

ATTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Two widely known pathologists have begun examining bodies of the men who died in the bloody clash at Attica state prison as controversy mounted over whether some hostages died from gunshot wounds or from having their throats slit.

Forty-two persons died in the rebellion which ended Monday when the prison was stormed by about 1,000 heavily armed state troopers, sheriff's deputies, prison guards and National Guard troops.

The pathologists—Dr. Henry Siegel of Westchester County and Dr. Michael Baden, acting chief examiner in New York City—were summoned Wednesday by state officials in hopes they could resolve the confusion over how the victims died.

One guard's burial was postponed at the last moment after a funeral director disputed a coroner's report that the correction officer had been killed by gunfire. The coroner's report said seven other hostages had also died from gunshot wounds.

The dead included 10 prison employees and 32 inmates.

Scores more were injured in the disturbance, which broke out last Thursday.

Earlier official reports, later acknowledged by the state's correction commissioner as "misstatements," had said some hostages had died of slit throats.

In another development, a physician who examined inmates Wednesday said more than 160 prisoners claimed to have been beaten when led back to their cells Monday.

A copyright story in today's editions of the Rochester Democrat & Chronicle attributed the report to Dr. Lionel A. Sifontes, 36, of Buffalo, who served on a seven-man medical team that examined more than 500 inmates.

"They had quite a few body bruises ... you don't get body bruises from a hand," Sifontes was quoted as saying.

Sifontes, however, would not speculate on how the prisoners were bruised and a prison official had no immediate comment.

As part of the widening inquiry into the carnage, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller planned to meet today with congressional and legislative leaders in Albany. Rockefeller has taken "full responsibility" for the way the insurrection was put down, and the White House has said President Nixon was "not going to second-guess him."

Activists Use So-Called Prisoner Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time, American peace activists visiting Hanoi have brought back something relating to U.S. prisoners of war held in South Vietnam, tapes purported to carry the voices of four POWs.

The tapes, released Wednesday by antiwar groups, assert the prisoners are forming a peace movement of their own, including publication of a pacifist magazine.

The tapes concern prisoners of the Viet Cong and were released by North Vietnamese in Hanoi, where visits in the past have been limited strictly to matters relating to prisoners in the North.

Copies of the tapes and transcripts were given to The Associated Press by representatives of the Vietnam Veterans Against the War and the Committee of Liaison with Families of Servicemen Detained in North Vietnam.

Each of the four speakers on the tapes makes antiwar statements with a central theme of support for the seven-point peace proposal put forth by Communist negotiators in Paris and a call for Americans to pressure their government to end the war.

There also were references to the Pentagon papers, a Defense Department study of U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

Two of the speakers were not identified. The others gave their names as Maj. Floyd Harold Kushner, an Army flight surgeon, and Army Special Staff Sgt. John Arthur Young, both captured by the Viet Cong in South Vietnam.

McGovern to Urge Aid Cut to Indochina

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern said today he is returning to the Senate next week to reintroduce legislation to cut off funds for U.S. military operations in Indochina by the end of this year or early next year.

He also said President Nguyen Van Thieu told him that U.S. air support would be involved in Vietnam indefinitely and that he did not envision the withdrawal of American ground forces for at least another year.

The South Dakota Democrat, a candidate for his party's presidential nomination, also said that Communist negotiators in Paris indicated to him they have hardened their stand on the periodic release of small groups of U.S. prisoners because of the unsuccessful American commando raid on the Son Tay POW camp near Hanoi last November.

The Communist side has released 23 prisoners of war since the end of 1967.

"My impression is that the raid complicated matters," McGovern told a news conference. "It is my personal belief it didn't help the cause of prisoner releases. There has been an obvious slowdown."

McGovern said the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong representatives had asked him not to disclose the substance of their talks on prisoners during six hours of private meetings in Paris last week.

McGovern said he would reintroduce his proposal to cut off military funds after conferring with Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore. A similar proposal by them was defeated in July.

McGovern and his party left Saigon shortly before noon for a three-day stop in Tokyo before returning to Washington next week.

"What is the worst thing that ever happened to you at the bridge table?" asked the student.

"There have been so many bad things that I find it difficult to select the worst. If you will settle for the most embarrassing, here it is," replied the professor.

"I was playing against one of my poorer pupils and had reached six spades. I won the club lead in my hand and led the five of spades toward dummy. This is the best play from a practical standpoint, because there is very little chance that second hand will play low if he holds king-small. If second hand does play low, you play dummy's four-spot and see what happens."

"I did this and West played the deuce without any problem. Dummy's four lost to East's jack and a club was returned. I won in dummy, led the queen of trumps, finessed and lost to the unguarded king."

"What was so embarrassing about that?" asked the student.

"It was my pupil's remark when I complimented him on his brilliant play. He said, 'You have taught me to play second hand low. What else should I have done?'"

"Second hand low sure turned out right that time, didn't it?"

British Plan Monetary Compromise

LONDON (AP) — Britain has formulated a compromise plan to move the United States and her trading partners closer to resolving the international monetary crisis, reliable sources say.

They say Anthony Barber, Britain's chancellor of the exchequer, will offer several middle-ground proposals today when he addresses the finance ministers and bankers of the world's 10 richest non-Communist nations.

Barber's plan calls for smaller upward revaluation of European currencies than the United States wants with a smaller devaluation of the dollar than some Europeans suggest. He also was expected to urge Washington to cancel the 10 per cent surcharge on imports, the sources said.

As the Group of Ten opened its two-day conference Wednesday, the nations appeared to be far from agreeing on who should pay what price for renewed monetary stability.

The crisis was brought on by President Nixon's decision last month to cut the link between the dollar and gold and impose the import surcharge.

Nixon's representative to the conference, Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally, surprised the delegates by announcing the United States intends to reverse its balance of payments deficit, turning a current annual loss of $9 billion into a $4 billion surplus. He mentioned no time limit for the turnaround.
